One of the best and most valued experiences that EDiS Company shares in our long-time partnership with the Delaware State Chamber is the Principal for a Day program. The EDiS leadership team looks forward to the week in October each year when they get to spend time in our local schools, sharing a "day in the life" with the hard-working principals and school leaders. As CEO Brian DiSabatino says, "Our community only works well when we are all vested in success." EDiS Company builds schools, but more importantly, we build communities. We are proud to have spent the last 109 years building educational facilities that matter to their communities, and look forward to great things to come for Delaware's schools.
